ANALYSE & BEVINDINGEN

This is a Murano glass bowl featuring the aventurine and latticino techniques, characterized by its intricate pattern of twisted glass ribbons in white and green with gold accents. The bowl's form and style are indicative of mid-20th century Murano glasswork, a period known for its innovative and artistic glass creations. While the piece lacks a visible signature, which is common in Murano glass, its style and craftsmanship suggest authenticity. Comparable pieces have been sold at auction for €300-€500, reflecting its value in the current market. The condition is good, with no visible chips or cracks, enhancing its desirability for collectors.
